

FETCH THE DISCO BALL

TREND

So Fluffy has a birthday coming up and you want to impress the other pooch parents. May we suggest a Doggy Disco party? Zoom Room, a Coconut Creek-based dog training center and canine social club, will throw a stylish soiree for Spot, complete with a revolving mirrored disco ball, dance music and an elaborate lighting system that projects colors and patterns on the floor for canine guests to chase. Costs start at $150 for two hours with 10 dogs and their owners, and include a free mini-agility lesson. Extras (at additional fees) include dog cakes, cookies, frozen yogurts, hats, invitations, gift bags and more. Promoters say the idea behind the Doggy Disco is to create an interactive experience between pet and owner, resulting in a greater bond (not to mention some awesome Facebook photos). Disco not your thing? Zoom Room also throws dog adoption anniversaries, Bark Mitzvahs, pet commitment ceremonies, charity fundraisers and more.
